

Bio Michael Lieder, Business Developer for Circular Economy, Scania

Michael Lieder is Business Developer for Circular Economy at Scania. He has more than ten years of experience in the area of circularity covering work in research, consulting and automotive industry. Michael brings together data-driven approaches and strategic perspective – specifically for manufacturing companies. He received his PhD in Production Engineering at KTH with focus on simulation modeling in circular context.